

IDEAL4RWE LEADERSHIP TRAINING 2022

Equipping the real-world evidence research leaders of the future

DIGICORE is funding a 2022 training scheme for European early career researchers in oncology, including an outcome study fund for building transnational teams that will create proof of concept research projects. Please share this opportunity with eligible researchers in your organisation to help increase your capacity and engagement in European cancer research collaboration.

AIM

to equip European researchers with the necessary skills and experience in real-world outcomes research

DELIVERY

12 months part-time training in technical RWE and research leadership skills

REQUIREMENTS

applicants already involved in research and < 45 years old

OUTCOME

comprehensive RWE skills | a new peer network | an EMR-driven academic research protocol | completed RWE analysis & clinical conference poster