

PRIVACY NOTICE

Introduction

This Privacy Policy is subject to:

- I. Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation) (“GDPR”);
- II. The Belgian Data Protection Act of 30th July 2018 on the protection of privacy in relation to the processing of personal data (as amended) (the “Privacy Act”); and/or
- III. All other applicable legislation regarding the protection of privacy and the processing of personal data.

(the Privacy Legislation)

In this Privacy Policy any use of “OEI”, “we”, “us”, “our” refers to the Organisation of European Cancer Institutes (OEI), a European Economic Interest Grouping headquartered at Rue d’Egmont 11, 1000, Brussels, Belgium, registration number 473647634 under the Crossroads Bank of Enterprises.

For the purpose of the “Privacy Legislation” OEI acts as data controller of your personal data. This means:

The "Organisation of European Cancer Institutes" is a non-governmental, no-profit legal entity established in 2000 to promote greater cooperation among European Cancer Centres and Institutes. The mission of OEI is to create a critical mass of expertise and competence in order to maintain a consensus on the best oncology models, and foster the widest deployment of oncology solutions to improve the quality of life of cancer patients. The Grouping aims at promoting efficient partnership across Europe, notwithstanding its linguistic barriers and heterogeneity in care and research. The OEI network currently regroups Members, which collaborate to reduce fragmentation and provide all European cancer patients the possibility to receive the best available care. Additionally, the lobbying activities undertaken by OEI help to create a legal framework within which its Members can better participate to the improving of cancer education, research, care and rehabilitation.

1. What type of personal data does OEI collect?

Identity:	first name, last name, gender (date of birth, ID and/or passport details only for the Board Members, employees and external consultants)
Picture(s):	portraits and/or photos related to the professional activity
Professional details:	professional title, curriculum-vitae
Contact details:	e-mail address, postal address, phone number, mobile phone number

The personal data are obtained:

- (i) directly from you, or
- (ii) indirectly through third parties, such as your organisation

2. For which purpose(s) and on which legal basis can OEI process personal data

Members

2.1 Identity details of the legal representative of the applicant institution are used:

- to process the membership application of the applicant Centre/Institution to the OEI Membership;
- to manage the general administration and OEI membership;
- to comply with our obligations related to the OEI governance (e.g. organisation of general assemblies, board meetings, conferences related to the OEI programme of activities).

Such processing is based on the legitimate interest of OEI, which commits to strictly limit its collection of data and information to the above-mentioned purposes.

2.2 Identity and professional details of Individuals appearing on the organigramme of each Member (General Director, Medical Director, Scientific Director or any other position in each Member Institution,) are processed:

- to be published on the website and on the annual publication of the OEI;
- to be used for communication and dissemination purposes;
- to promote and increase the collaboration of the Members in the various OEI activities and scientific events including surveys and their participation to the Working Groups, to the OEI

Academy and to the OECI Accreditation&Designation Programme, the OECIWORLD initiative, the OECI Young Board and Assembly of the Youngs;

- to highlight the OECI presence and visibility with worldwide cancer organisations and stakeholder groups in cancer-related matters.

Such processing is based on the free, specific, informed and unambiguous consent given through the consent form to OECI.

2.3 The contact details of each Member-designated contact person are processed:

- to facilitate access to member-only content;
- to provide with relevant and updated information about OECI and its activities, including newsletters and communications related to the Organisation's activities.

Such processing is based on the legitimate interest of OECI to maintain effective communication with its members and stakeholders, balanced against the rights of data subjects. OECI commits to strictly limit its data collection to the purposes described above. It is possible to object to this processing at any time through the opt-out mechanism provided in each communication.

Non-members

2.4 OECI also processes personal data of representatives and contact persons of third-party entities with which OECI has a contractual relationship (e.g. services providers or consultancies).

2.5 OECI processes contact details of journalists, Members of European Parliament, officials from the European Commission and from EU Member States, academics, consultants and industry experts and European affairs stakeholders, European and International Cancer Organisations, Patients and their Organisations, caregivers, in order to carry out its research, advocacy activities, publications and educational events.

Such processing is based on the legitimate interest of OECI which commits to strictly limit its data and information collection to the purposes described in this paragraph.

The above-mentioned contact details are used by OECI for communication and dissemination purposes in order to highlight the OECI presence and visibility with worldwide cancer organisations and stakeholder groups in cancer-related matters.

Such processing is based on the free, specific, informed and unambiguous consent given to OECI.

2.6 For event organisation: OEI processes identification details of individuals who register to participate to events and conferences it organises for the purpose of managing the registration and participation to such events under the general terms and conditions that are expressly accepted by the individuals and/or based on consent for certain personal data.

2.7 Newsletter and communications to non-members:

OEI processes contact details of professionals, researchers, healthcare practitioners, and other stakeholders in the oncology field to send newsletters and communications about:

- OEI activities, events, and initiatives;
- Relevant developments in cancer research and care;
- Educational opportunities and scientific publications;
- Policy updates and advocacy activities in the cancer field.

Such processing is based on the legitimate interest of OEI to disseminate information relevant to the oncology community and to promote collaboration in cancer research and care. This legitimate interest is balanced against the rights of data subjects, considering the professional nature of the relationship and the relevance of the information shared. It is possible to object to this processing at any time through the opt-out mechanism provided in each communication.

3. Transfer of personal data to third parties

3.1 OEI guarantees that it will not transfer your personal data to third parties, unless:

- There is a legal obligation to transfer such personal data;
- It is necessary for the achievement of one of the Purposes described here-above (e.g. subcontractors, partners or contracting parties, hotel and travel reservations covered by OEI);
- OEI has a legitimate interest in doing so, which is balanced against your rights and interests as data subject;
- You have provided your free, specific, informed and unambiguous consent for such transfer.

3.2 Third parties to whom OEI may, or is obliged to, transfer personal data on the basis of the above categories, can be located within or outside the European Union. In such case, OEI shall ensure that the personal data will be treated fairly and lawfully. This will include ensuring OEI has a legal ground for sending the personal data outside the European Union and putting in place necessary safeguards for such arrangement, including Standard Contractual Clauses approved by the European Commission or adequacy decisions pursuant to Article 45 GDPR.

3.3 OECI commits to implementing appropriate data processing agreements with all third-party recipients in accordance with Article 28 GDPR. OECI maintains oversight and responsibility for the processing activities conducted by third parties and reserves the right to audit compliance with data protection requirements. OECI remains accountable for ensuring that third parties process personal data in accordance with applicable data protection legislation and the instructions provided by OECI.

4. Storage period

OECI stores the personal data for a period of 36 months from the last significant interaction with OECI - e.g. opening a communication, participation in an event, request for information unless a request to object or unsubscribe in advance - until it is withdrawn in compliance with the individual rights under the Privacy Policy.

5. Profiling and automated decision-making

OECI does not engage in profiling or automated decision-making that produces legal effects or similarly significantly affects data subjects pursuant to Article 22 GDPR.

All communications, including newsletters and updates, are sent without automated analysis of individual characteristics, preferences, or behaviors. Content is not personalised based on individual profiling.

6. Your rights

6.1 The Privacy Legislation provides you with a number of rights related to your personal data. You are entitled to the following rights, free of charge:

- Right of access: you have the right to access and receive a copy of your personal data that OECI holds;
- Right of correction: you have the right to have your personal data corrected in case errors occur; in this regard, please inform the OECI of the changes occurred;
- Right to delete: you have the right to have your personal data deleted in case:
 - a. your personal data are no longer necessary to achieve the Purpose;
 - b. you withdraw your consent and there is no other legal ground for the processing of the personal data;
 - c. you object to the processing of the personal data and there is no other legal ground for

- the processing of the personal data;
- d. the personal data have been unlawfully processed; i.e. there is a legal obligation to erase the personal data
- Right to restrict the processing of your personal data;
 - Right to transfer your personal data to a third party;
 - Right to object against the processing of your personal data, in particular the processing related to direct marketing purposes;
 - Right to withdraw your consent pursuant to which OECI is allowed to process your personal data.

6.2 In case you want to exercise the above-mention rights you may send a written request by mail to oeci@oeci.eu and to the OECI DPO mailto:privacy@oeci.eu. Such request must be signed and dated and shall be accompanied by a proof of identity.

6.3 You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Belgian Data Protection authority (<https://www.dataprotectionauthority.be/citizen/privacy/what-to-do-in-case-of-abuse>) if you believe that the processing of your personal data breaches the Privacy Legislation.

7. Security measures

OECI commits to take (or have) all reasonable measures (taken) to its best ability to safeguard the protection of the personal data through organisational and technical security measures. Personal data are stored entirely on a server and on a digital platform managed by a processor through the OECI website restricted area, only reserved to authorised users.

Personal data related to the OECI members that are in the Accreditation Process are stored in the restricted area by the OECI Accreditation and Designation staff.

Please acknowledge and accept that the transfer and storage of personal data is never without risk and consequently, the damage that you may suffer from the unlawful use of your personal data by third parties, can never be referred to OECI.

8. Liability

OECI can solely be held accountable for damage which directly results from the processing of your personal data due to a fault or negligence of OECI.

OECI cannot be held liable:

- I. in circumstances of force majeure and/or

- II. for any indirect or consequential damage and/or
- III. for damages that result from errors, faults or negligence by you or third parties.

9. Applicable law and competent court

9.1 All disputes between you and OEI regarding personal data and privacy issues are exclusively subject to Belgian law, excluding any conflict of law principles.

9.2 Every dispute regarding personal data and privacy issues belongs to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Brussels, Belgium, and exclude any other court.

10. Changes to the Privacy Policy

OEI can modify this Privacy Policy at any moment. The updated Privacy Policy will take effect as soon as it is updated.
